Stephen Hawking has long been recognized in the scientific world as a renowned scientist in the area of the origin of the Earth. He has long held that there is no need to believe in God to explain the origin of the universe, but apparently did not rule out God having some influence on the origin of the universe. Now, he has a new book coming out in which he argues that God did not create the universe and that the “Big Bang” was an inevitable consequence of the laws of physics.

In a recent article from Reuters (news.yahoo.com, 9-2-10), Hawking is quoted as follows: “Because there is a law such as gravity, the universe can and will create itself from nothing. Spontaneous creation is the reason there is something rather than nothing, why the universe exists, why we exist” (This is from Hawking’s new book The Grand Design). He also states “That makes the coincidences of our planetary conditions – the single Sun, the lucky combination of Earth-Sun distance and solar mass, far less remarkable, and far less compelling evidence that the Earth was carefully designed just to please us human beings”.

Think about the first statement above. Hawking, a renowned scientist, states that the universe created itself from nothing. Spontaneous generation (creation, as he calls it) has long been proven by scientist (Pasteur, most notably) to be impossible. In fact, pure logic would tell us that there is no means by which something that is not living can decide to start living. And, where does Hawking think gravity comes from? Gravity is what each rotating sphere in the universe generates because of its rotation. How can there be gravity when nothing exists?!

Then, he dares to say that our single Sun and the “lucky combination”(?) of the Earth-Sun distance, etc. are not evidence of a designed universe!!! From the chaos that is known as the Big Bang came a single Sun and perfect distance between this Sun and the Earth? This would be beyond a “lucky combination”. This would be impossible. Order has never come out of chaos. And, Hawking is a “renowned” scientist?!

“For what if some did not believe? Shall their unbelief make the faith of God without effect? God forbid: yea, let God be true, and every man a liar...”(Rom. 3:3,4)

The Truth

Alexander Campbell said, “Often have I said, and often have I written, that truth, truth eternal and divine, is now, and long has been with me the pearl of great price. To her I, with the blessing of God, sacrifice everything. But on no altar will I offer her a victim. If I have lost sight of her, God who searcheth the hearts knows I have not done it intentionally. With all my heart have I sought truth, and know I have found it.”

Should this not be the sentiment of every Christian, yea, of every human being? Remember, Jesus said, “And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free” (Jn. 8:32). Solomon declared, “Buy the truth, and sell it not; Yea, wisdom, and instruction, and understanding” (Pro. 23:23).
