You Are Here—By Purpose or By Chance?

Brad Harrub

Adapted from Newspaper Article

“In the beginning was matter, which begat the amoeba, which begat the worm, which begat the fish, which begat the amphibian, which begat the monkey, which begat man, who imagined God. This is the genealogy of man.” So stated Charles Smith, former president of the American Association for the Advancement of Atheism, in his booklet, Godless Evolution.

“In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth.” So stated Moses in the first chapter, the first verse, the first book of the Bible—Genesis 1:1.

Who is right? Is there a God, or isn't there? Is Exodus 20:11 correct when it asserts: “For in 6 days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day...”? Or did organic evolution—the result of spontaneous generation and some common ancestor billions of years ago—produce all that you see before you today? What is the answer?

Take a moment and consider the importance of this dilemma. Either there is a God, or there is not. Either man was created for a purpose or we are here as the result of a cosmological accident. There is no middle ground. Whatever decision you reach, it is an important one. And who among us makes important decisions without first gathering, sifting, examining, scrutinizing, and weighing all the facts of the case? The question then arises, what is the evidence offered for God's existence? Who is right? Is there a God, or isn't there?

If there is a God, what else does that mean? If there is a God, then nothing else really matters; if there is no God, then nothing matters at all. If there is no God, then the atheistic creed of life, with the grave as the end and a life to be filled with pleasures of the moment, is entirely satisfactory. If there is no God, there is nothing to stop us from living by atheism's golden rule: “Do your own thing; if it feels good, do it.” On the other hand, if there is a God, and if the Bible is His inspired word to man as Christians claim it to be, then we are faced with an entirely different situation. Suddenly we come face-to-face with the stark realization that mankind was created with a purpose—and a lifetime to fulfill that purpose. To succeed means joy forever with God in eternity; to fail is to fail throughout all eternity.
